Beauty Road Tests

We tried the latest innovations to see if they live up to their bold claims—and steep price tags

“Botox” Antiperspirant

Product Dermadoctor Medetate antiperspirant wipes, $48/30; dermadoctor.com.

Claim Mimics the effect of Botox injected into armpits by suppressing sweat glands.

Our experience We didn't sweat all day, plus the wipe was super handy.

Expert's take “The ingredients will reduce sweating, but I don't think it comes close to Botox,” says N.Y.C. dermatologist Doris Day.

Skin-Care Laundry Wash

Product Borba Fabric Fusion 2-in-1, $25/36 oz.; borba.com.

Claim This eco-friendly detergent fuses skin-softening agents into your fabrics, helping skin look and feel healthier.

Our experience It didn't irritate our skin but didn't feel like a full-body facial either.

Expert's take “It's low in irritating chemicals and does contain botanicals, but it's unclear how much is absorbed,” says N.Y.C. dermatologist Arielle Kauvar.

POP BEAUTY NAIL GLAM in Violetta, Pinky and Mandarin, $10 each; popbeauty.co.uk.

NEON NAILS

Yes, fluorescent nails are back—and they're just as fun (and tricky) as last time. “Make it your one big color statement,” advises celebrity manicurist Elle. And since the shades dry matte, always add a shiny top coat.

HAIR & NOW The whole she bang

Missed your last trim? You're in good company. Long, lash-grazing bangs are suddenly everywhere. The style—which begins way back at the crown and ends below the brow—looks most modern when there is little or no part, says hairstylist Ken Paves, who often works with Kate Beckinsale. “The more hair involved in the bang, the more edgy the style,” he adds. Since long bangs visually shorten the face, they look best on oblong or heart-shaped faces.
